AGGRESSION REPLACEMENT TRAINING®

Evidence Based Model Overview
Provide understanding of the theories of aggression, the Angry Behavior Cycle, and the abnormal condition of aggressive behavior in youth.

Provide experiential training enabling the “Facilitator” to implement Skillstreaming, Anger Control and Moral Reasoning groups.
Aggression Replacement Training

- Skillstreaming (the behavioral component)
  Teaches what to do

- Anger Control Training (the emotional component)
  Teaches what not to do

- Moral Reasoning Training (the values component)
  Teaches why to use the skills
ART® Summary

- Strong theoretical base
- Specific applicability for practitioners
- Broad empirical support for both theory and method
- Specific support for ART
Evidence-Based

Model Approach

• U.S. Dept. of Corrections
• Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention
Quality programs that are delivered by caring and professional staff, who use therapeutic, cognitive-behavioral and skill-building interventions to treat today’s youth, are most effective.

Lipsey and Wilson
Social Learning Theory

• People learn new behavior through overt reinforcement or via observational learning of the social factors in their environment.

• If people observe positive, desired outcomes in the observed behavior, then they are more likely to model, imitate and adopt the behavior themselves.
Cognitive Theory

• Cognitive Events:
  • Stream of Consciousness

• Cognitive Process:
  • The way we think – Not what we think

• Cognitive Structure:
  • Foundation of basic attitudes and beliefs (Rational-Irrational)
  • Cognitive Restructuring

• Inner Speech:
  • Self-Talk (bubble talk)
It’s not the event that causes the feeling, it’s what you think about it.

Darrell suspected someone had once again slipped him a spoon with the concave side reversed.
Thinking Errors

Any cognitions that...

- Rationalize
- Justify or minimize behavior
Metacognition

“thinking about thinking”
“knowing about knowing.”

It includes knowledge about when and how to use particular strategies for learning or for problem solving.
METACOGNITION STRATEGIES

1. Self-questioning (e.g. "What do I already know about this topic? How have I solved problems like this before?")

2. Thinking aloud while performing a task, and making graphic representations of one's thoughts and knowledge

Skillstreaming Procedures

Modeling
(Skill demonstration by trainers)

Role Playing
(Skill rehearsal by youth)

Performance Feedback
(By trainers and youth in group)

Generalization Training
(To increase both transfer and maintenance)
Skillstreaming the Adolescent

Group I: Beginning Social Skills

1. Listening
2. Starting a Conversation
3. Having a Conversation
4. Asking a Question
5. Saying Thank You
6. Introducing Yourself
7. Introducing Other People
8. Giving a Compliment
Group II: Advanced Social Skills

9. Asking for Help
10. Joining In
11. Giving Instructions
12. Following Instructions
13. Apologizing
14. Convincing Others
15. Knowing your Feelings
16. Expressing Your Feelings
17. Understanding the Feelings of Others
18. Dealing with Someone Else’s Anger
19. Expressing Affection
20. Dealing with Fear
21. Rewarding Yourself
Group IV: Skills Alternatives to Aggression

22. Asking for Permission
23. Sharing Something
24. Helping Others
25. Negotiation
26. Using Self-Control
27. Standing Up for Your Rights
28. Responding to Teasing
29. Avoiding Trouble with Others
30. Keeping Out of Fights
Skillstreaming the Adolescent

Group V: Skills Dealing with Stress

31. Making a Complaint
32. Answering a Complaint
33. Being a Good Sport
34. Dealing with Embarrassment
35. Dealing with Being Left Out
36. Standing up for a Friend
37. Responding to Persuasion
38. Responding to Failure
39. Dealing with Contradictory Messages
40. Dealing with an Accusation
41. Getting Ready for a Difficult Conversation
42. Dealing with Group Pressure
Skillstreaming the Adolescent

Group VI: Planning Skills

43. Deciding on Something to Do
44. Deciding What Caused a Problem
45. Setting a Goal
46. Deciding on Your Abilities
47. Gathering Information
48. Arranging Problems by Importance
49. Making a Decisions
50. Concentrating on a Task
Skillstreaming the Adolescent

Skill 2: Starting a Conversation

Steps:

1. Greet the other person.
2. Make small talk.
3. Decide if the other person is listening.
4. Bring up the main topic.
Skillstreaming the Adolescent
Skill 6: Introducing Yourself

Steps:

1. Choose the right time and place to introduce yourself.
2. Greet the other person and tell your name.
3. Ask the other person his/her name if you need to.
4. Tell or ask the other person something to help start your conversation.
Skillstreaming the Adolescent

Skill 42: Dealing with Group Pressure

Steps:

1. Think about what the group wants you to do and why.
2. Decide what you want to do.
3. Decide how to tell the group what you want to do.
4. Tell the group what you have decided.
Skillstreaming Training Steps

1. Define the skill.
2. Model the skill.
3. Establish trainee skill need.
4. Select role-player (main actor).
5. Set up the role-play (co-actor, set the “stage”).
6. Conduct the role-play.
7. Provide feedback (order: co-actor, observing trainees, trainers, main actor).
8. Assign skill homework
9. Select next role-player.
ANGER
CONTROL
TRAINING
Anger Control Training

Designed to serve two related purposes:

- To help make the arousal of anger in chronically aggressive youth a less frequent occurrence
- To provide such youths with the means to learn self-control when their anger is aroused
Anger-Arousing Thinking Errors

• Self-centeredness
  “What are you looking at?!”

• Attribution of hostile intent
  “He’s trying to make me look like a wimp.”

• Mislabeled
  “I have to defend myself.”

• Assuming the worst
  “If I don’t hit him I’m a wimp.”

• Blaming others
  “He’s asking for it.”
Anger Control Training

The Emotional Component of ART

Original studies conducted by Donald Meichenbaum et al. (1969) looked at the relationship between impulsivity and poor verbal control of overt behavior.
What to change?

Could hyperactive, impulsive youngsters be trained systematically to alter their problem-solving styles, to think before they act, or to talk differently to themselves?
Multi-step Sequence

1. Trainees are first helped to understand how they typically perceive and interpret the behavior of others in ways that arouse anger.

2. Focus is given to outside occurrences and inner perceptions that initiate the anger experience.
Overview of a 10 Week Anger Control Training Sequence

Week 1: Introduction

1. Explain the goals of Anger Control.
2. Explain the rules for participation.
3. Give initial assessments of the A-B-C’s:
   A=What led up to it?
   B=What did you do?
   C=What were the consequences?
4. Review the entire sequence.
Week 2: Triggers

1. Review the first session.
2. Introduce the Hassle Log.
3. Discuss what makes you angry (triggers).
4. Role-play triggers.
5. Review the Hassle Log and Triggers.
HAZLLE LOG

Name: ___________________________ Date: __________________

☐ Morning     ☐ Afternoon     ☐ Evening

Where were you?
☐ Classroom     ☐ Bathroom     ☐ Off grounds

Week 3: Cues and Reducers

1. Review the first two sessions.
2. Discuss how to know when you are angry (cues).
3. Discuss what to do when you are angry:
   - Deep Breathing
   - Pleasant imagery
   - Backward Counting
4. Role-Play triggers + cues + anger reducers.
5. Review the Hassle Log
Week 4: Reminders

1. Review the sequence.
2. Introduce reminders.
3. Model using reminders.
4. Role play triggers + cues + anger reducer(s) + reminders.
5. Review reminders.
Role Play

- Triggers: External, Internal
- Cues
- Anger Reducers
- Reminders
Week 5: Thinking Ahead

1. Review the sequence.
2. Introduce thinking ahead.
   • Short and Long term Consequences.
   • Internal and External Consequences.
3. Role play “if-then” thinking ahead.
4. Role play triggers + cues + anger reducer(s) + reminders + thinking ahead.
5. Review Thinking Ahead.

Week 7: Angry Behavior Cycle

1. Review the sequence.
2. Introduce the Angry Behavior Cycle.
3. Identify your own anger-provoking behavior.
4. Change your own anger-provoking behavior. Role-play triggers + cues + anger reducer(s) + reminders.
5. Review the Angry Behavior Cycle.
Week 8: Rehearsal of Full Sequence

1. Review the sequence.
2. Introduce the use of Skillstreaming skills in place of aggression.
3. Role-play triggers + cues + anger reducer(s) + reminders + thinking ahead + Skillstreaming skills + self-evaluation.
Role Play: Skill Sequencing

- Triggers: External Internal
- Cues
- Anger Reducers
- Reminders
- Thinking Ahead
- Practice Skills Skill + Self Evaluation

Anger Reducers
- Count Backwards
- Deep Breathing
- Pleasant Imagery

Self-Evaluation
- Self-Coaching
- Self-Rewarding

Thinking Ahead
- Short-term Consequences
- Long-term Consequences

Reminders
- Positive Self-Talk
- Self Instructional Talk
Anger Control Training Steps

1. Define the sequence concept
2. Model the sequence
3. Establish trainee needs/Review hassle logs
4. Select role-player assign feedback steps. (bubble talk each step of the sequence)
5. Select the co-actor
6. Conduct the role-play
7. Provide feedback (Order: co-actor, trainees, trainers, main actor)
8. Select the next role-player
9. Assign homework
MORAL REASONING TRAINING
Moral Development

All children are born with a running start on the path to moral development. A number of inborn responses predispose them to act in ethical ways. For example, empathy — the capacity to experience another person’s pleasure or pain — is part of our native endowment as humans.

Damon, 2006
The Moral Development of Children.
Moral Development

• This capacity for empathy stagnates or even diminishes for many people if it is not reinforced, continuously learned and refined through social experience.

• Other moral emotions that make an early appearance include shame, guilt, and indignation.
Delay in thought and behavior

• Antisocial youth show prolonged immaturity in the stage of moral judgment.

• They also demonstrate persistent and pronounced egocentric bias.
Moral Reasoning Training

Dilemma discussion groups designed to teach children how to:

1. Think about moral issues.
2. Deal with moral situations that do not have clear-cut solutions.
3. Use principles of fairness and justice in their interactions with others.
Ask...Don’t Tell

• The leader should remember that his or her primary role is to cultivate the group: to guide or stimulate, not to inject statements or instructions.

• Follow-up questions are to challenge thinking errors and provide clarification.
“Benign Confrontation”

• Initial questioning strategy that allows the facilitator to confront initial participant responses that may be contradictory.

• Benign confrontation is a sophisticated skill that encourages a student to examine his or her behavior without “boiling over” or moving away.
1. Michael is walking along a side street with his friend James. Michael has just been released from a juvenile facility. James stops in front of a new car. He looks inside and says, “Hey! The keys are still in this thing. Let’s see what it can do! Come on let’s go!” What should Michael say or do? Should Michael try to persuade James not to steal this car?

- should persuade
- should let steal
- can’t decide (circle one)
Michael’s Problem continued

2. What if James says to Michael that the keys were left in the car, that anyone that careless deserves to get ripped off. Then should Michael try to persuade James to not to steal the car?
   – should persuade
   – should let steal
   – can’t decide (circle one)

3. What if James says to Michael that the car’s owner can probably get insurance money to cover most of the loss?
   – should persuade
   – should let steal
   – can’t decide (circle one)
4. What if James tells Michael that stealing a car is no big deal – that plenty of people do it all the time.
   – should persuade
   – should let steal
   – can’t decide (circle one)

5. What if Michael knows James has a girlfriend and a one year old baby, who will suffer if James gets caught, loses his job and goes to jail? Then should Michael try to persuade James not to steal the car?
   – should persuade
   – should let steal
   – can’t decide (circle one)
6. Let’s say the car is your car. Michael is James’s friend, but Michael is also your friend. Michael knows it is your car. Should Michael try to persuade James not to steal the car?

– should persuade
– should let steal
– can’t decide (circle one)
7. Let’s say that Michael tries to persuade James not to take the car, but he goes ahead and takes it anyways. Michael knows that James has been partying and is extremely drunk and shouldn’t be driving? What should Michael do?

8. In general, how important is it for people not to steal things that belong to you?

9. In general, how important is it for people not to take things that belong to others?
